

Want your company to have exposure to hundreds of technology minded people from local businesses in the Columbus Area?

NMP Consulting will be marketing CTCon5 – Wars, Tournaments, and Fun to small, medium, and large company's information technology staffs and executives around the Central Ohio area. There will also be write-ups in several national websites that cover these activities and are read by hundreds of thousands of people daily.

CTCon is bringing together people over a 3-day weekend for some of the best head-to-head and team-level computer gaming in Central Ohio. It will be starting Friday, August 27th and continue 24 hours a day until Sunday, August 29th. Many travel from all over the United States and Canada to the event. CTCon is in its fifth year of operation, and showcases some of the latest computer technology available to businesses and consumers alike. Many businesses' IT staffs participate in computer gaming on-line, and get many of their technology and business referrals from other similarly minded persons in the gaming community.
